Discover Sofia

The City of Walkable Serenity

Sofia is not just a city; it's a unique blend of tranquility, dynamism, and cosmopolitan charm. This beautifully organized city is pleasantly walkable, boasting an array of charming small shops and cafes tucked amidst residential and office buildings.

Attracting millions of global tourists annually and being home to hundreds of multi-national companies, Sofia is a hive of international activity. Yet, it maintains a vibrantly youthful aura, thanks to the vast number of students and expats that reside here. With a substantial population of 1.5 million, including suburbs, Sofia promises an experience like no other.

Malinova Dolina: An Oasis of Luxury in Sofia

Nestled in the southern part of Sofia, the district of Malinova Dolina stands as a beacon of serene opulence. Far removed from the hustle and bustle of city noise, it's conveniently located near the prestigious "American College" complex in Sofia.

Malinova Dolina, bordering the city's Ring Road, is situated west of the Mladost-4 district. Its central boulevard, St. Kliment Ohridski, is a main artery lined with an array of warehouses, small production premises, and office buildings. To the south of the "National Sports Academy" complex, you'll find nine streets filled with new luxury homes and vacant lots, ripe for development.

Embrace Life in Malinova Dolina

The district is characterized by elegant, single-family houses, cementing its status as one of the city's most expensive neighborhoods. With improved urban planning and a focus on extensive landscaping, Malinova Dolina is transitioning into an ever-more appealing and sustainable environment.

The municipal administration is committed to enhancing the water supply, sewage systems, and street network, ensuring residents enjoy the comforts and convenience they deserve.

Malinova Dolina is popular due to its strategic location. It offers swift, easy access to Sofia's central part and is well-served by bus lines 69, 70, 111, and 123.

Experience the blend of peacefulness and excitement that defines Sofia and live a life of tranquility and luxury in Malinova Dolina. This could be your new home.
